

Another Suicide

Hoods

going nowhere fast
everywhere at once
no one is king
and there is no god
so if life is a test then I've failed you all put the steel to my head and watch me fall-fall
I scream from inside
lock myself out
I look to the past
where's the innocence lost
too proud to be heard as my heart turns to stone when you turned your back is when I lost it all-all scream from inside
just outta reach
I look for your help
you give me nothing
no words to express in the hostile times killed these dreams
when I believed your lies-lies
going nowhere fast
everywhere at once
no one is king and there is no god
put the steel to my head and watch me fall I scream from inside
lock myself out
when you turned your back is when I lost it all-all
