

Not Tonight

Hootie & The Blowfish

Don't need reason, don't need a rhyme
French champagne or a box of wine
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
She can shake it up, she can break it down
Cool blue jeans or an evening gown
My baby don't care, my baby don't care

She don't ask for roses, she don't ask for much
She says, if I'm all she's got, she's got more than enough
I get so low solo, she gets me back high
She says, Mondays are just Fridays in disguise
And hey babe, it's gonna be alright

I don't need a reason, don't need a rhyme
French champagne or a box of wine
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
She can dress up, she can get down
Cool blue jeans or an evening gown
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
No, not tonight, no, not tonight

I don't need perfection, she don't mind mistakes
If she's all I got, then I've got more than I can take
She's says hey babe, it's gonna be alright

I don't need a reason, don't need a rhyme
French champagne or a box of wine
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
She can shake it up, she can break it down
Cool blue jeans or an evening gown
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
No, not tonight, no, not tonight

Let it go, let it grow
Let it fade away with the light
We can worry about it tomorrow but not tonight
Let her go, let her grow, let her fade away with the light
We can worry about it tomorrow but not tonight
No, not tonight, no, not tonight

I don't need a reason, don't need a rhyme
French champagne or a box of wine
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
She can break it up, she can shake it down
Cool blue jeans or an evening gown
My baby don't care, my baby don't care
No, not tonight, no, not tonight
No, not tonight, no, not tonight

We can worry about it tomorrow but not tonight
