

Billie tries too hard
But too can be beautiful
The much gets too much
Then too much means the end

Her love goes too strong
But too can be beautiful
When strong gets too weak
Then too weak means the end

Still too much love, love, love
To give up now
To give up now

Her life gets too hard
But too can be beautiful
When hard gets too hard
Then too hard means the end

Her tears taste too salt
But too can be beautiful
When salt gets too salt
Then too salt means the end

Still too much love, love, love
To give up now
To give up now
To give up now
