

Encoded Love

Hooverphonic

I don't have to tell you what
I don't have to tell you what to do
The answer in your eyes is vague
The answer in your eyes is deep dark blue
So many years ago you found a way to show remorse
But Morse is just the only code we know
Short long short

Baby it's hard...

Hard to break encoded love
So hard to break encoded love
It's all I get from you
But baby we'll pull through
And all I get from you is encoded love

You don't have to tell me where
You don't have to tell me where it hurts
Hope is in your eyes
But hope can be annoying as heartburn
You told me long time ago
You'd push me 'way when I would show remorse
But this labyrinth of dots & stripes
Is so hard to solve

Baby it's hard...

Hard to break encoded love
So hard to break encoded love
It's all I get from you
But baby we'll pull through
And all I get from you is encoded love

Hard to break encoded love
So hard to break encoded love
It's all I get from you
But baby we'll pull through
It's all I get from you
But baby we'll pull through
And all I get from you is encoded love
encoded love
encoded love
encoded love
