

Little Silver Birds

Hope of the States

All the people stuck behind
Dead bolts and steel plates
You're shut off from the noise outside
You couldn't leave if you tried

Because it's pointless
It's worthless
To deny that you are scared
All the fences, all the walls we build
Will never ever fall

I am in love
With the chance
That we all could do better than we do
The lonely and broken
The people forgotten
Did nobody tell you that your heart was wrong

Send me little silver birds
To keep the promise that you make
One hundred thousand tiny lights
For all of us who feel the same

And all the fences, all the walls we build
Will one day maybe fall

I am in love
With the chance
That we all could do better than we do
The lonely and broken
The people forgotten
Did nobody tell you that your heart was wrong

I am in love
With the chance
That we all could do better than we do
The lonely and broken
The people forgotten
Did nobody tell you that your heart was wrong

Cause even if nothing ever turns into something
Always believe that your heart was right
