

Blackhearted

Hopes Die Last

Take a seat and have some rest
I need some time to tell you this
This is the story of the day I wanted something more
That day I decided to hear the call
That's how I ended up against the wall

The cold was rising, the fog was falling
They met in the middle of the air, where I was breathing
So I just started to count my heartbeats
While my regrets were bringing me down

Alone in this winter night
It's my black hole
No matter how hard I try
I'm blind
The darkness feeds my eyes
It's my black hole
'till I realize
I died

I felt in my mouth taste of grass
And my heart burst in my chest
I didn't know how long I slept
Like a forsaken doll
And then I wasn't sure to reach the dawn
I clench my teeth and I realize
There's no way, no way home

Now I'm wasted, there is no exit

The crows were flying
The wolves were coming
They met in the middle of the path
Where I was crawling

So I could suddenly taste their bloodlust
While my legs were just going numb

While my legs were just going numb
While my regrets were bringing me down
The cold was rising
The fog was falling
While my legs were just going numb
So I just started to count my heartbeats
While my regrets were bringing me down

Alone in this winter night
It's my black hole
No matter how hard I try
I'm blind
The darkness feeds my eyes
It's my black hole
'till I realize
I died

Take my life, take my life
Bury me under the ice

Take my life