

I'm here to say goodbye cause I'm sick I can't deny wish your face down on the floor cause I can't take it anymore

I saw the shape of things to come I've seen them all I've seen just some so you have no mercy it seems I can be worse than what you deem

I didn't mean to give it away 'cause I'm coming back and this is what I hide

It's for you there's something you should see for every time you lied I'm taking back was mine

For a forest's will a horse was lost
For a horse's will a horseman lost
For a horseman's will a battle lost
For a battle's will a kingdom lost

It was ever less than a treason To yield with a grace to reason chasing all the sake you stole

chasing all the sake you stole

Thought this life was worth to be lived with you

No turning backs when patience fails, Leave your drama in fairytales, Crawling in the shadow of your soul Chasing all the sake you,
Chasing all the sake you stole
