

A Man Exits

Hopesfall

I escaped the horizon feeling nothing was the easiest existence leaving a world of regret in a wake of flames no flame ever burned as bright I will not live a martyr no more eyes to frame my falls I can't live life for closed hearts joy left me that day pulled from my hands as they robbed me of life I am leaving earth burning the past as i turn and wave goodbye
I am finally alive
