

A World We'll Never Find

Hot Chelle Rae

Let me out and let me breathe
Just give me space and set me free

These words, they fly like bullet from a gun
The smoke, it clears and look at what we've done

And wait
I've got something left to say

Can we take back all the tears that we've cried
And take back every year that's gone by
Create a life of memories and a love that grows
In a world with no time
That's a world we'll never find

A flower blooms
I watch it die
The sun, it sets
I watch it rise again

A guilty conscience
Leaves a warming heart
With every day
We seem to drift a part

And wait
Please take me to a place

Where we can take back all the tears that we've cried
And take back every year that's gone by
Create a life of memories and a love that grows
In a world with no time
That's a world we'll never find

Can we take back all the tears that we've cried
Can we take back every year that's gone by
Create a life of memories and a love that grows
In a world with no time

Can we take back all the tears that we've cried
And take back every year that's gone by
Create a life of memories and a love that grows
In a world with no time
That's a world we'll never find
