Hot Water Music

The rain is falling and my eyes are getting tired
I hope i think to dream before i fall asleep
I need to know who dies when we grow
Who pains when we gain
What will it take to show
When did it start when will it end
If you know more than i my friend well come on in
And we'll begin
I need comfort i need time so on and so on
I breathe on and build on who will back me up
Who will join me in this fight
I need to know who dies when we grow
Holding back not letting go will never help me show
