

Nobody Let You Down

Hotel Lights

moving the hair out of your eyes telling me things i want to believe there won't be anything to regret keep searching, may you always stay free

you oughta know it now
nobody let you down
late night greyhound bus ride don't lose your mind
cause there's no way things are gonna make sense in time flock of cranes in the winter light long time to go before you decide, you'll let it show mountain high on the low edge waitin' on the hudson line more than seasons changed

nobody let you down
you're a trendsetter, fuel for fire
don't lose your mind

just echoes and sunlight on the floor the future's just today and tomorrow farther than where we started getting closer since we parted cold nights, this was your design

don't lose your mind
there's no way things are gonna make there's no way things are there's no way things are gonna make sense in time
