

Hearts Of The World

House of Lords

A desperate man With so far to fall
He knows his life lies over the wall
And in his mind he flies on wings of gold
And falls to earth in a blaze of glory

The strength, the fight
Calling the hearts of the world
No fear tonight
Calling the hearts of the world

A lion sleeps he dreams of his freedom
A hero born to die for his reasons
Not much longer till the curtain calls
He bears his soul and waits for the fall

More strength tonight
Calling the hearts of the world
No tears this time
Calling the hearts of the world
No tears this time
Calling the hearts of the world

The strength, the fight
Calling the hearts of the world
No fear tonight
Calling the hearts of the world
More strength tonight
Calling the hearts of the world

The strength, the fight
The fight for the hearts of the world
More strength tonight
Tonight, oh yeah
Oh yeah

No fear
Freedom
Calling the hearts of the world, yeah
