Sleep My Angel

Howard Jones

Sleep my angel It is time for bed I will be there To watch over you I'll protect you from the world And the voices in your head I'll be with you With my life I will defend I'll be with you I will be there in the end

And I'll cry your tears As you feel every pain Coax out the sun From the endless rain Thought I'd never feel So much love for another I'll be with you I will be there in the end

Love that is there Through the false and the real Love that desires No reward and no gain As I hold your tiny hand You'll never know how I feel There's a promise With my life I will defend I will be there with you 'til the end

And I'll cry your tears As you feel every pain Coax out the sun From the endless rain Thought I'd never feel So much love for another I'll be with you I will be there 'til the end

All that potential Bursting inside Let me help you on your journey Let me help you with life

I will be there with you 'til the end
