

Shatterproof

Howie D

She sees her own reflection
In everyone's tears
She doesn't like to fall
And she runs through my affection
And makes it look so easy
So she doesn't hurt at all

You're stained like glass
You think you're shatter proof
But I throw myself into you
Prepare to crash 'cause I can't wait
For you to break
What makes you so afraid
To break, to break
What makes you so afraid
To break, to break, to break

She's afraid to ask a question
When the answer's so clear
She'd rather lose it all
With me you'll never find rejection
I make it look easy
I'll catch you when you fall

You're stained like glass
You think you're shatter proof
But I throw myself into you
Prepare to crash 'cause I can't wait
For you to break
What makes you so afraid
To break, to break
What makes you so afraid
To break, to break, to break

Change, change, change... your mind
Take, take... take your time
Break, I will wait
For you to break, to break
Wait, wait, wait till you break
Take your time

You're stained like glass
You think you're shatter proof
But I throw myself into you
Prepare to crash 'cause I can't wait

You're stained like glass
You think you're shatter proof
But I throw myself into you
Prepare to crash 'cause I can't wait
For you to break
To break, to break
