

Beautiful Mistake

Hudson Taylor

Heavy footsteps in my boots.
Will I be the one you choose?
I keep chasing hope away,
Too proud to try and make a change.

If I had the chance,
I'd throw the words right back,
And turn it all around,
I wouldn't let you down,
I don't want us to break
into a beautiful mistake.

All the confidence I lacked,
You gave it back in just two weeks,
I don't wanna be your ghost anymore,
Always digging up the past.

If I had the chance,
I'd throw the words right back,
And turn it all around,
I wouldn't let you down,
I don't want us to break
into a beautiful mistake.

Waiting for the moment,
When we can make this right,
Waiting for the moment,
And forgiveness in your eyes.

Waiting for the moment,
When we can make this right,
Waiting for the moment,
And forgiveness in your eyes.

Waiting for the moment,
Waiting for the moment,
Waiting for the moment,
Waiting for the moment.

If I had the chance,
I'd throw the words right back,
And turn it all around,
I wouldn't let you down,
I don't want us to break
into a beautiful mistake.
