

Lucky

Hugh Dillon

You know you're a lucky man
Fortune has smiled again
You're still walking the planet

You know you're the lucky one
You should have been done by now
But somehow you've managed

And lucky don't stay
And lucky don't stop
Or call to say hey
And lucky don't turn around
And lucky don't check his messages
Lucky just checks his watch
And heads for the exit

You know you're the lucky one
Luckier than most
You're still walking the planet

You know you're the luckiest
Your memories and ghosts
Are painting over the damage

And lucky don't fade away
And lucky don't turn around
When you say hey
Lucky don't stop at all
Lucky don't return your calls
Lucky just comes and goes
After all

You know you're a lucky man
Luckier than most
Your memories and ghosts

You know you're the luckiest
Fortune has smiled again
You're still walking the planet

You know you're the lucky one
You should have been done by now
But somehow you've managed
