

In The Fire

Hurricane

All your promises, and empty lies
Have led me to the real you
Every time you tried to take your disguise
You could never see it through

It's time to find your way up
Before we hit the ground, and you
Burn, burn,
You're gonna take your turn
In the fire
Burn, burn,
Will you ever learn
In the fire

I see you're headin' for a breakdown
You got to get to the cure
Heavy metal mental shakedown
You're spinnin' down that's for sure

It's time to find your way out
You're spinning round and round

You really had 'em going this time
Always puttin' on a show
Only problem there's now where to go
