Help

Take my hand and lead the way Out of the darkness and into the light of the day And take me somewhere I'll be safe Carry my lifeless body away from the pain

'Cause I know what I've been missing And I know that I shloud try But there's hope in this admission And there's freedom in your eyes

And we cry away

I'm sick and tired of being afraid If I cry any more then my tears will wash me away But when I hear you call my name I whisper the word that I never thought I'd ever say

And I hope to God you'll listen And you'll keep me safe from harm 'Cause I found what I was missing When I fell into your arms

And we cry away

I can feel the darkness coming And I'm afraid of myself Call my name and I'll come running 'Cause I just need some help Hurts
