

Rusty Moon

Hypnogaja

I don't recognize this place anymore
The stars don't shine like they did once before
Hidden truths can't be denied
As a rusty moon fills the sky

But it's alright

When the world outside
Turns dark and cold
We'll still get by
When it gets too dark
To find our way home
It's alright, we've still got light

We used to live for the night
Cities would illuminate the sky
Shades of blue now fade to gray
As the rusty moon lights the way

And it's alright

When the world outside
Turns dark and cold
We'll still get by
When it gets too dark
To find our way home
It's alright, we've still got light

The beauty that surrounds us
Is different than it once was
No longer full and bright
But it still shines it's light
