

The Coming

Hypnogaja

I should've recognized the signs upon my eyes
I never realized I could be so blind

But now I see it clearly
The fear behind the lies
And you're beneath it

All this time I've wasted
I didn't want to face it
All this time I'm running from this truth
That I should have seen the coming

I thought that your intentions were the same as mine
I didn't want to see you were on the other side
