

Wash It All Away

Hypnogaja

I'm trying to find my way
But every direction looks the same
Unmasking all my fears
Have I been lost for all these years?

And I say baby please

Can you come down and take away all of the pain
Can you come down to ease me and wash it all away

You tremble from the cold
Is life not quite what you were told?
Dreams die and fade away
But time will bring another day

When you say baby please

I know things get hard and the skies are full of gray
But I can feel it comin' down to wash it all away

I hear you call my name
But will you hear me when I say?
