The Quest

Hypocrisy

One's loss is another's pain When someone falls then the others gain

Misjudged and stripped down to the bones The industry is getting rich on the poor They'll make you bleed out your anger No one will ask you for your forgiveness

The quest for the sign Will stop at nothing Follows the book of lies Your god told you to look for the sign Suck 'em all dry like a parasite

Kill a million people And kill another million more They don't believe in what you believe It's not your gods' call

Misjudged and stripped down to the bones The industry is getting rich on the poor They'll make you bleed out your anger No one will ask you for your forgiveness

The quest for the sign Will stop at nothing Follows the book of lies Your god told you to look for the sign Suck 'em all dry like a parasite
