I Blame Coco

From the beat of the silent thinker To the feet of the stompin' crowd Just another early drinker Who knows that thinkin' makes the world go round

From the bottom of the third drumwell (I'm stuck in) To the ruins of a burned down house (I live in) Just another silent thinker Just lookin' for a place to drown

It's like the tick tock of a bomb blockin' my head When the beat stops sometimes I think I'm dead It's like the tick tock of a bomb blockin' my head When the beat stops

I said please rewind Please rewind it I said please rewind

So if you ask me my opinion You heard it from the horse's mouth I said there is no jurisdiction For the people in think town

Can you hear my thought like I hear them Can you speak them as they sound If you amplify the distance To the beat of the ground

It's like the tick tock of a bomb blockin' my head When the beat stops sometimes I think I'm dead It's like the tick tock of a bomb blockin' my head When the beat stops

I said please rewind Please rewind it I said please rewind Please rewind it

It's like a paranoid voice of confusion Protects you from that thought It's like the thought of a silent thinker As I sink into that mind of yours

It's like the tick tock of a bomb blockin' my head When the beat stops sometimes I think I'm dead (2x)
