

Too Much To Lose

I Call Fives

I just turned 22 and there's nothing else for me or anyone to look forward to
I thought by now I'd get something right
I've got this feeling that there's more to life than being alive

Sometimes it's hard to be yourself when you're down and feel like someone else With all you've been through and the world's against you
I've got too much to lose
I won't live this down

Now I'm not afraid of walking away
Cause lately I've been losing sleep
Sometimes I feel like I'll die Over ?
I'm holding on to something I can't keep

So who are you to say that we've ?
And take it all the way
We'll never give in

I've got too much to lose
I won't live this down
