God Has No Place Within These Walls

I Declare War

God hates all of us. I will not beg for forgiveness. You will a ll choke on your lies of a faith that's left us all so blind. M illions will not survive. Survive. Suffocating me. We will all burn for eternity. There is no substance to what you preach. Pr ayers wasted, souls forever lost. I will not look towards the s ky to find my unholy guide. Hidden by his fake virtues. Divided by faith. Slaughter the innocent. Point your fingers to past j udgment. You are shallow and so is your faith. A thousand years of unholy bloodshed. And for a faith that cannot exist. Christ bled for all our sins. The dead will lie in the streets, so le t them bleed just a little more. Take a picture, capture this m oment. This is my redemption. You say God is merciless. So bow your head with the masses. To save you forgotten souls. I won't waste a moment on prayer. God has no place within these walls.
