

Kaboom!

I Fight Dragons

Life is like a game We gotta choose a side You try to play Before you lose your mind And fade away But you could soon be gone

Who's it gonna be? You gotta tell yourself Its never me And you can justify Most anything So whose side are you on?

Well, one day they'll drop the bomb Who knows who they'll drop it on Maybe someone that you love So before they get to you Do what you gotta do KABOOM! KABOOM!

Don't try to say That we could win it all Some other way Our pride will never fall And never change You better toe the line

Cause in the end The only thing on which You can depend To attack is safer than defend But not for army line

Well, one day they'll drop the bomb Who knows who they'll drop it on Maybe someone that you love So before they get to you Do what you gotta do KABOOM! KABOOM!

Pick which side you're on, drop the bomb (6x)

Well, one day they'll drop the bomb Who knows who they'll drop it on Maybe someone that you love Don't wait for the evidence No one's really innocent Send the judgement from above And before they get to you Do what you gotta do KABOOM! KABOOM! KABOOM! KABOOM!
