

I kept waiting for the sun to rise
With you looking a change through the night
And I'm still waiting for this all to die
To be swept away and all aside

Am I still forgotten?...
Just like you, turn this around

My heart sways like the seasons change
So you can't help me sleep for days
Until you whisper, I'll bend your lies
And take your seamless, it'll be alright (be alright)

... suffocating, as I know you'll see this through
See this through

Am I still forgotten?
Just like you, turn this around

I kept waiting for the sun to rise
With you looking a change through the night
And I'm still waiting for this all to die
To be swept away and all aside

Will I ever find my way?