

Always Remember Me

Ian Brown

The day trip over
A tangerine sun
Becomes blood red sun splashed horizon
You walked yourself into the wilderness
I wondered there did you ever guess
You'd always remember me
Always remember me
Always remember me
Always remember me

Those were the days when
We had it all
And these are the times
I got so much more

The day trip over
A tangerine sun
Becomes blood red sunblessed horizon
You walked yourself into the wilderness
I wondered there did you ever guess
You'd always remember me
Always remember me
Always remember me
Always remember me

Led the pack
Then off the track at the bend
We learnt that all good things do truly
Come to an end
Dippers and trippers
Paint on the walls
Those were the days friend
We had it all
And these are the times
I got so much more
Always remember me
Always remember me
Always remember me
Always remember me
