

Walking Away

Ian Van Dahl

Another sleepless night I open up my eyes I found the reason why

I feel the time has come To make it on my own I'm heading for the sun

I'm walking away To find a brighter day I'm walking away No reason left to stay

I'm walking away
I still feel safe and sound But it's time to break new ground And turn my life around

I've wasted too much time On things I could not find I leave this place behind

I'm walking away
