

Proximity Mines In The Complex

Ice Nine Kills

you're not god

there's nothing left that you can give back and nothing left to gain surrounded by choices that you don't have throw the book or turn the page safe is just a shadow that circumstances change to hide the world around us from the fate we can't escape

so give it up, give it in give me something to die for hands down- this is goodbye show them all what it means to just let go i'll be there by your side will we sink or swim this time i know there's nothing left in my body to give you if we fall we fall- let's roll the dice this is not goodnight

this is goodbye

danger in the shadows where it all begins to hide the world around us from the candlelight within it won't do to just let em' bleed let's give em' something that leaves a scar something that means we are never falling to our knees and if they only want your heart let them be easily amused until the right arrives at the jaw

you burned your last bridge tonight this isn't goodnight
this is goodbye
