Floorkiller

Icon of Coil

Someone pretends to hold it back Even they don't know that they gave their best When they gave up other beliefs When they're on the top

Even though they got more than much to give Bit by snakes but I won't give it up

Come down, confront all my visions Come down

Still I'm hunting the demons

I used to love to see the reflections Of my shadows, now it seems like a threat We need less as we swallow each other

Still I'm hunting the demons

Come down, confront all my visions Come down

Can't wait for the signs to stop flashing in my head Can't wait for the sounds to hold me back How it felt through that time, I can't explain But I hope you try to see seduce me, hold and caress me

Come down, confront all my visions Come down
