

Fear Will Keep Them In Line

If Hope Dies

A desperate panic penetrates your mind the images of mass destruction are threatening your way of life try to lock the world out but you're still living in it
the only separation
is mere inches thick
televised propaganda
lights each nerve on fire
a conspiracy of fear
to leave you paralyzed
masses roam drunk on murder they want what you have earned remain quiet and keep your head down in this state of emergency fear rules
fear rules your existence
follow the stampede of victims join the herd of alarmist drones no one needs to oppress you when your prison is your home
