The Last Song

All I hear is bitches ain't shit All men are liars You can only trust yourself I know that weed is fire! It can't last forever True love died in '96 There is nothing left now Replace hearts with business Damn well... What I'm meaning to seems I, Think I met someone But he ain't really my type shiiit He only 21 His fingers do the talking Where he's from, will be his coffin Every time this homeboy drive me 'round think I might die on slauson But. I still wanna keep him, cook him breakfast in the mornings We haven't even kissed yet But that just make me want him more Plus he love his mama yep He a family man And even though the ratchets love him, I still think he a gentleman Oh oh oh Life's a trip and baby you the plane And I'm just trynna get a seat next to you to stay Put his fear in his nose Why he do that? I don't know I lost a couple friends to that So I hope he is in control Every time he swear he gonna stop But I know that he won't wish I could be the only angel he need to be strong This, could be dangerous Man I got a lot at stake I ain't even graduate So I don't have room for mistakes No oh oh oh Life's a trip and baby you the plane I'm just trynna get a seat next to you to stay Yes I am, yes I would. When? For good? For you? For ever! All my friends think that I'm crazy They tell me I could do better F-ck all that, boo It's you that I'm trying to get to heaven with They say that you're a hindrance But I think that you genuinence They say he's no item. Please don't like him. He don't wife 'em, he one nights 'em! ' But I don't give a f-ck if my friends don't like him I don't give a f... They say he's no item. Please don't like him. He don't wife 'em, he one nights 'em! '
