

Ash Return

Ignite

guess again everyone who just left us for dead what did you really expect? we'd never come back
well we did

better take another look these are the faces you forgot when the trend wore thin when the flame dimmed
now you're gonna get burned

our position always seems so grim we're trying to move forward while the past bottles us in there's so many voices that are telling us to quit all we can say is thanks thanks for nothin don't they know what went around is coming back

catch your breath
this is the wood, fuel and spark of our whole stagnant movement together we're gonna find a match ash return
ash return
