Homecoming

I have tried so hard To regain my faith In man Yet, I fail again To uphold this Deception His collective truths Are far too salt

I return instead To the Heart and Self And say: "Unutterable and nameless Is that which maketh my sou's pain And sweetness, And which my bowels yearn upon".

Ihsahn