Is this for real you ask
Or more of just the same
A flicker in the night
A world that seems so lame

Take me through the far side Across the barren stream I see the light of earth Inside this endless dream

I see you far from here
And fall into a trance
Confusion takes the best of me

I walk a further motion And glance into this sea This holds to tranquility

How could you let this be And leave this situation A larger part of me Won't hold this devastation

Take me through the far side Across the barren stream I see the light of earth Inside this endless dream

I see you far from here And fall into a trance Confusion takes the best of me

I walk a further motion And glance into this sea This holds no tranquility

The shallow sea
The shallow sea