Condemned

Ikuinen Kaamos

The path grows wild behind me Something stalking Stalking around me You have found me

I'll break the hour glass To free the sands That I gathered For nothing

Carve your name under my skin The mark of the beast, the mark of the divine Swallow my soul, swallow me whole Consume my existence

I cut myself open Bury you inside me I pour the filth out Bury you underneath

You reach from the depths Hands around my throat, around my mind Hold on tight With a grip that devours my life

We have reached the point Of inevitable solution An ugly sight Still our eyes are gazed on upon it Then we act Laughing
