

Wrong Kind of War

Imany

I signed over the papers of my life
I never thought I'd come to say goodbye
Don't ever think you're stronger than your mind
And now a stranger's living in my house

As years go by
All kind of things have happened to my smile
As time has marked
As time has marked the corner of my eyes
I'd still go back
I'd still go back

We lost the way to each other's heart
We fought too hard the wrong kind of war
Don't ever think you're stronger than your mind
What's left of it is to cover our tracks

As years go by
All kind of things have happened to my smile
As time has marked
As time has marked the corner of my eyes
I'd still go back
I'd still go back

As years go by
All kind of things have happened to my smile
As time has marked
As time has marked the corner of my eyes

I'd still go back
I'd still go back
