

Inside Out

Imelda May

Love, it's so crazy
Make my heart go oopsy daisy
Make my blood flow, not so lazy
Cause I love you inside out

Time is a waste while you hold out
So frustrating cause you know that You're looking amazing
And I love you inside out

I love your eyes, blue as the skies
I love your lips, to your finger tips
I love your bones, your old sticks and stones
Yeah I love you inside out

Oh, don't you believe me
Yes I know it's kind of creepy
Ohhh but oh, loving me deeply
Admit it I did it, you know you gonna keep me

So, say you love me like a hobo
Worn and grubby but you know though
No one above me
And you love me inside out

Oh, don't you believe me
Yes I know it's kind of creepy
Ohhh but oh, loving me deeply
Admit it I did it, you know you gonna keep me

So, say you love me like a hobo
Worn and grubby but you know though
No one above me
And you love me inside out

I love your chin, and the skin that you're in
I love your nails, even your entrails
I love your soul, even your little mole
Yeah I love you inside out

I love your arms, and your laugh out loud charms
I love your wits, and all your wobbly bits
I love your lungs, and your talking tongue
Yeah I love you inside out
