

Nightmare

Immer

gloomy morning, terrifying night fast pulse, cold sweat confused mind, sweaty palms knees shaking, vague memories dreadful dream - hard nightmare mysterious figure holding an axe saw his own body falling down longer after he saw his head rolling woke up and relieved head is still on the neck it was just a nightmare, here is a new day

sat until the dream was chased away then he smiled dressed up it was just a dream, no big deal innocent hanged - what does it matter?

put a wig on and dressed a robe ready to play false play coming out and the last he saw - mysterious figure with resolve in the eyes wig falling from his head and head is falling from the neck the right hunch, it wasn't a dream today was very short day
