Imperative Reaction

I used to care
It used to matter
But the meaning lost its way within this pattern

Closed in
From the world
I had to find
Something inside to clear my mind

And though I wanted to
I just can't see it
Though I know it's true
I still can't feel it

I walked away from too much
And now I'm falling behind
The damage took me as a crutch
But it left me blind

I used to know
I used to need it
But the message has become too misleading

Closed in

I had to find
Something inside to clear my mind

And though I wanted to
I just can't see it
Though I know it's true
I still can't feel it

I walked away from too much
And now I'm falling behind
The damage took me as a crutch
But it left me blind

And though I wanted to
I just can't see it
Though I know it's true
I still can't feel it

And now I'm falling behind
But it left me blind
