Imperative Reaction

I don't think you see
Something's changed
When was the last time
You looked down?
So far above
The insects that praise you
You haven't noticed them
Running away

You've tried to talk it away
Hoping everyone
Believes the words that you say
You tried to push it away
Hoping no one
Would see another way
But it's not the same

You're so deep in your hype
And you're the last one to know
So just indulge in your pride
Until you wake up unknown

I don't think you see
All things fade
When was the last time
You looked down?
So far above
The insects that used you
You never noticed
Them throw you away

You've tried to talk it away
Hoping everyone
Believes the words that you say
You tried to push it away
Hoping no one
Would see another way
But it's not the same

You're so deep in your hype
And you're the last one to know
So just indulge in your pride
Until you wake up unknown

You're so deep in your hype
And you're the last one to know
So just indulge in your pride
Until you wake up unknown

You're so deep in your hype
And you're the last one to know
So just indulge in your pride
Until you wake up unknown

You're so deep in your hype
And you're the last one to know
So just indulge in your pride

Until you wake up unknown

You're so deep in your hype
And you're the last one to know
So just indulge in your pride
