

What is it worth
What does it matter
If all we build just breaks us down
What can we show
What is the value
Of pushing ourselves deeper into the ground
Something forgotten
Something ignored
Something is missing
Something we don't have anymore

Minus all
Your structure dissolved
Minus all
Our system falls
What can we say
What is the message
If all we are just fades away
Why don't we care

Why don't we see it
Digging ourselves deeper into the grave
Something forgotten
Something ignored
Something is missing
Something we don't have anymore

There is no point
It doesn't matter
All we built just broke us down
What could we show
What was the value
Of pushing ourselves deeper into the ground
Something forgotten
Something ignored
Something was missing
And we don't care anymore
