

You Remain

Imperative Reaction

It's still impossible to really believe you're gone
And even though it has been awhile
It's no easier
To accept
To understand it
To move on
You're still everywhere

I'd give up all tomorrows
To have one yesterday
And I'd live within that moment
As long as you could stay
Beyond goodbye
Beyond the pain
I'll never let go
You will always remain

It's still impossible to really let go
And move on
And even though I know I can't go back
It's no easier
To accept
To understand it
To move on
You're still everywhere

I know you're still there
I know you'll always be with us in some way
And we'll never forget
The way you were so alive
The way you changed us
Will not be lost in time
You remain forever
You'll never fade away
You remain forever
And that will never change