Bought The Ticket, Took The Ride

In Fear and Faith

So you think that I should I be a man free of sin I've done enough to prove that I am not capable of this I'm not claiming that I'm only bad But I'm not surprised that I've created distance from my past

365 days to go! I was a different man! Watch my world caught on fire! There's been a slight change of plan! When I wake up... the world is yours!

All of this is consequence this year could be my last! Maybe I am crazy but either way I'm ok I'm alive today But it won't take away this pain

One day I'm expecting to pay for the things I've done in this l ife I've tried to take my time but it never turns out right I know it's just a matter of time

If only all of you could see into my mind Then you would probably find a boy who's barely clinging to lif e

Maybe I am crazy but either way (I bought the ticket and took t he ride) I'm ok I'm alive today But it won't take away this pain
