The Chosen Pessimist

In Flames

Tell me which side I'm on Approaching constant failure Tell me which side I'm on (Who's friend or foe?) Approaching constant failure

Between love and hate Which path to follow? How can I keep balance in this race? Come faith, I'm dying (slowly)

In many ways I'm the burden that devides us from the light In many ways you're the halo that keeps my spirit alive

Temptation Play the good or evil part With me, you evoke the dark Erase the free will and watch me heal

Tell me which side I'm on Approaching constant failure

Between love and hate Which path to follow? How can I keep balance in this race? Come faith, I'm dying...

Amused by the trials and tribulations If I survive I fly from here But as the chosen pessimist

I carve my name in stone I carve my name in stone

Amused by the trials and tribulations If I survive I fly from here

How can I keep balance in this race? Come faith I'm dying...
