

Departure (Death)

In Hearts Wake

I will stand alone to the very end. I will stand alone. I am fearless I will not give in to the bureaucracy of death. So many lifeless questions left unanswered. When I'm dead and gone, what will become of me ? Will my name be set in stone? Will I be more than blood and bone? Does the strongest soul forever walk alone?

Cast me to the wind where did the time go? Searching all my life I'll never know. Drifting through the air where did our love go? I'll I never know, I'll never know. Boom. Meet me on the other side, I'll say farewell to the world we know. Cast me to the wind where did the time go ? Searching
all my life I'll never know. Drifting through the air where did our love go? I'll never know, I'll never know.

I know I will leave this world the same way I entered, in solitude and with nothing. Will I be more than blood and bone? As the strongest soul I'm destined, I will stand alone. I am fearless. I will not give in. Alone with nothing.
