

Dreamcatcher

In Hearts Wake

Time moves on and we won't change. Follow your heart or life will fall away.

We can change. The less you dream the faster you die, give yourself the chance to breathe.

Chase your dreams, follow your heart - why weren't you taught this from the start.

Cast your weary nets may they cradle home. Aim to search, you won't find.

For the answer is inside. Believe this mystery, this is within your reach.

Time moves on and we won't change. Follow your heart or life will fall away.

We can change. The less you dream the faster you die, give yourself the chance to breathe.

With every heartbeat one less remains. With every heartbeat chase all your dreams.

Find your everything. Find your everything. For in the end we'll be weightless history.

Time moves on. Life moves on.
