

I can't believe in your distinctiveness.
The things you left me i lay to rest.
If it happened all at once would you even feel it change?
We've come so far just to lose feeling.
Sometimes i feel so sick inside just breathing in,
Breathing out.
Please just let me out,
Let me out.
I know that it's all in my head.
I've been here time and time again.
Please just let me out,
Let me out.
Is this all we have.
Is this all we have to try and build our foundations on?
Any day now this will be so simple.
This day has come to a close just tell me secrets,
Tell me lies.
Tell me i'll never tell and we can sleep safe in our own resolve.
These things that we lay beneath our heads.
You see it now,
You take it all.
Is this all we have.
Is this all we have to try and build our foundations on?
This has been such a beautiful day to be woken up.
Your glassy eyes,
They've seen so much.
They took my hand and showed me how far we've come.
