

In The Absence Of Onlookers

In League

We need an intervention, we count on our inventions to bring us
satisfaction
and save us from destruction.

We are taught with lies, never raised to recognise the facts we re fiction that made us blind.

Hear me when I say, I'm not being hypocritical.
This is our own damn fault, this is so god damn typical of us,
the past - the present and future,
society's depending on the modern intruder.
We will protest all conformists, we will show your eyes importa nce.

It is sad but true, we will never grow too far apart from these machines.

We are taught with lies, never raised to recognise the facts we re fiction that made us blind.

I will not have my life victimised with bad intentions.
I will not have my life victimised by these machines.
These machines are built to save us,
instead they enslave us.
